Labor Legislation Has Unanimous Support Of Legion In Convention

Honolulu's Resolution Substituted for Maui's in Convention; Hilo Votes No On First Ballot, but About Faces and Kukuas on Second Roll Call; Copies Will Be Sent to Congress Direct.

Endorsement of the emergency legislation pending in congress was given unanimously by the Hawaiian department of the American Legion in convention at Hilo on Saturday. On the second ballot the resolution presented by Honolulu Post carried. On the first ballot Hilo Post voted against the motion but switched over on the second roll call. There were two resolutions, one presented by Maui Post and the other by Honolulu. It points out that the American Legion in the national convention of 1920 passed a resolution favoring "further diversification of the alien population of Hawaii with a view to effecting its military, social and economic safety."

It states that the convention "favors the passage of the Hawaiian emergency labor bill by Congress," as the bill is designed to furnish alien agricultural labor, further diversify the alien population of the territory and aid in the development of Americanization in Hawaii.

Copies will be sent to the national commander of the Legion, president of the Senate, speaker of the house and to Delegate Kulu.

Americanism Always
The keynote of the convention was sounded Friday when Department Commander J. K. Butler reviewed the real activities and said the main issue is "Americanism." He dwelt upon the other important issues that confront the legion in the Islands. A stirring message was received from Maj. John G. Emery, national commander of the legion.

Need of Labor Great
Governor Farrington, guest of honor, in his address dwelt especially on the need of labor in the Islands, said the residents of the Islands should stand as a unit in the campaign and urged getting behind all the remedial legislation passed at the last session. He said heavy tax burdens will be necessary. Aim to build, not to destroy was the slogan sounded by the Governor.

Dangers to Army
Major General Charles P. Summerall addressed the convention briefly. He called attention to various dangers which imperil the American nation.

China for Open Door and Opened Within

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PEKIN, Sept. 6.—On the eve of his departure for Washington, Dr. S. K. See secretary of the China delegation to the disarmament conference, says that China will insist upon the open door to China and will open it from the inside. He said that thus far the open door has been observed through the initiative of foreign governments but that this has not prevented "spheres of influence" and special privileges which have been and always will be a stumbling block to peace in the Far East.

So long as China is considered an "inferior nation" there can be no permanent peace in the Far East, he said.

NEW NOTES OUT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The state department announces that last week it sent to all of the allied powers new notes regarding mandates and declined to accept or discuss them at present. It is understood that the note reiterates for the United States its position as to its rights in the mandated territory.

Federal Force Brings Peace In West Virginia

General Bandholtz Announces He Is Considering Withdrawing Some Units; National Guard Goes Home.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Restoration of order in the West Virginia coal fields is near at hand, General Bandholtz says that he is considering recommending the withdrawal of some of the Federal units. This announcement followed a tour which he made through the region where the disturbances have raged which he made in a special train. He found no remnants of disorder.

Despatches from Logan said that Col. Eubanks commanding the national guard has disbanded all units and left the federal forces in control.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 5.—All was reported quiet today in the coal mine strike area patrolled by federal regular troops.

Large numbers of persons who had been causing trouble gave up their arms yesterday, leaders of the United Mine Workers of America assisting federal troops in sending the men home, but army headquarters announced that not all the arms in the hands of the strikers had been surrendered as yet.

Governor Morgan issued a statement declaring that all the forces of the state would be employed to assist the county in punishing those found guilty of causing the disturbances, which constituted an insurrection against the state and the government of the United States," he said.

Some shooting was reported to have been heard in the Tug river region last night, but the authorities did not consider the firing serious. Major General Bandholtz announced today that he was considering ordering back to their barracks the troops which came from Camp Dix, provided the situation continues quiet throughout today.

Three of the five missing army fliers whose bombing plane was seen falling Saturday were found dead on Twenty Mile Creek this morning, according to a report made to aviation headquarters here. The fourth aviator was reported injured and no reference was made to the fifth occupant of the plane.

HARRISBURG, Ill., Sept. 5.—Striking coal miners at the Rose Clare captured J. C. Swanson, superintendent of the mine, his wife and three children, Saturday and are holding them prisoners, according to information reaching here today. Mine guards have driven the strikers and their families from Rose Clare.

HARRISBURG, Ill., Sept. 6.—Unconfirmed reports reaching here say there have been fresh outbreaks of violence and clashes between mine guards and mine workers in the Illinois coal districts.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—Troops entered the disturbed area in West Virginia today. Yesterday there were started for the coal fields 2100 troops equipped with machine guns, howitzers, one pounders, radio outfits, and included gas specialists. Brigadier General Bandholtz, in command of the air forces has arrived at the disturbed area. Two hundred troops, which arrived this morning toward Little Coal River and 200 more reached St. Albans and the same number reached Madison and started in the same direction. Other trainloads were expected to reach Logan, Fairmount and St. Albans before midnight.

Called Insurrection

Secretary of War Weeks announces that 2000 more troops are ready for entrainment. Commenting on the situation he said: "When railroads are closed and armed men march to and fro, call it what you will, we call it insurrection." He added that union officials apparently favored the sending of troops. He added that General Bandholtz had reported that Philip Murray, international vice-president of the miners union had joined him in the request for troops.

Reports from Logan say there is heavy fighting in progress in the Spruce Fork Ridge line, some fighting on the center of the line and the quietest zone is at the east end near Blair mountain.

Fairmount reports that an airplane was caught in a storm and fell while attempting a landing, but no one was injured.

Speaking to President Harding, Samuel Gompers today said the people of West Virginia "cannot and must not stand in a hostile army against the authority of the United States."

Ready to Retire
In despatches from Madison, William Blizard, sub-district president of the United Mine Workers, is quoted as saying on his return from the disturbed area that shooting was continuing but that the miners were anxious

Rioting in Ireland Continues and Red Flag Raised in Cork

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

CORK, Ireland, Sept. 6.—Representatives of the transport workers' union today took possession of the offices of the harbor board and hoisted a red flag over the premises owing to the refusal of the board to grant a minimum wage of 70 shillings a week.

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 6.—Unionists employed by large concerns were given arms for defense today following the rioting of last night. The rioting came after a meeting and is declared to be the sequel to the speech of O'Duffy at Armagh.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Irish republican reply to Premier Lloyd George's latest communication looking toward the settlement of the Irish question was made public here last night. It rejects the British government's proposal on the ground that it is not based on dominion status for Ireland.

The note, however, leaves the way open for further negotiations by offering immediately to appoint plenipotentiaries for renewed conversations on the basis of the principle of "government by consent of the governed."

The Irish reply accords little reason to fear immediate breakdown of negotiations, unless the cabinet council on Wednesday decides to impose a time limit for Ireland to accept or reject the British proposals. It shows, however, that Eamonn de Valera and the Dail Eireann have not receded from their former position.

The reply emphasizes the point that the government's proposals are not an invitation to enter into a free and willing partnership with the nations composing the British commonwealth, but the conditions proposed would divide Ireland into two artificial and mutually destructive states. It insists that the plenipotentiaries shall enter the conference untrammelled by conditions, and adds that Dail Eireann is ready to appoint its plenipotentiaries.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The British cabinet will be called upon Wednesday to decide either that negotiations shall be continued with the Sinn Fein elements in Ireland on the basis of "government by the consent of the governed," as proposed by the Irish, or that an ultimatum shall be issued calling upon the Irish to accept or reject the British government proposals for peace in Ireland, it was announced today.

Owen O'Duffy, chief Sinn Fein liaison officer for the north of Ireland, speaking at Armagh, is reported to have threatened Ulster with an increased boycott if that district did not enter "United Ireland," adding that if that move were not successful in influencing Ulster, "we will bring lead against her."

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 5.—The speech of Owen O'Duffy, chief Sinn Fein liaison officer for the north of Ireland, at Armagh, is reported here to have been out of tune with recent declarations by Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," who advocated negotiations between the north and south of Ireland in an effort to smooth away all differences and effect peace.

If these negotiations failed of their purpose, De Valera proposed that a boycott be enforced, but without physical force.

TENOR DROPS DEAD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Joseph Mann, first tenor in Berlin, dropped dead on the stage of the opera house last night while singing Aida. He was to have sung at the New York Metropolitan Opera House next winter.

to return to their homes just as soon as the federal troops guaranteed them protection. He said that five airplanes circling over the area of disturbances had dropped gaspish high explosive bombs. One of these bombs, he declared, had fallen between two women and had failed to explode. Army fliers denied that they are carrying explosives of any kind.

Deputies Blamed
A despatch from Charleston received last night said:

Philip Murray, international vice-president of the miners, issued a statement late last night in which he said he believed the federal troops will restore order in the West Virginia mining district.

Murray said the system of mine guards and private detectives was the basis of the trouble. He advocated calling of a conference by the government between mine owners and miners.

He said that on August 26 the miners agreed with General Bandholtz to return home, and did so. The next night deputies and constabulary members crept into Sharpless and killed two miners, precipitating renewal of the trouble.

William Petrov, vice-president of District 17, announced that leaders of the armed miners telephoned him last night that they will not resist the

Maui Polo Team Retain Laurels Of Championship

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Sept. 6.—By a score of 8 to 7 Maui won the championship and the most thrilling game of polo ever seen in the Islands. Oahu came up from behind in the last chukker and made a strong bid for victory. Up to that period Maui led, 8-5, but in the final chukker the blues outrode and outplayed the yellow and black, scoring twice.

Edward Baldwin was the bright and particular star of the match, showing international playing form. He led the players of both teams in the scoring, putting the ball through four times. Sam Baldwin and Harold Castle each have three goals to their credit, Fleming and Arthur Rice scored one each and Frank Baldwin and Francis Brown were pointless.

The largest crowd, an attendance of 9000, in the history of the game witnessed the magnificent exhibition furnished.

Daring Escape From McNeil Prison Made During Ball Match

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

TACOMA, Sept. 6.—One of the most daring prison breaks in the history of the Pacific Coast states occurred yesterday at McNeil Island prison and Roy Gardner, the California mail band it is at large.

Gardner and two life termers made the break while a baseball game was in progress in the prison yard, witnessed by 250 prisoners. They made their way to the rear of the crowd and awaited a tense moment in the game. When it came they dashed for the fence and scaled it. Gardner drew wire cutters and cut their way through the barbed wire at the top of the fence, just as the attention of the guards was attracted. The latter opened fire with buck shot and the escaping prisoners returned the fire. One of the life termers was killed and the second is believed to have been wounded but got away with Gardner. Two of the guards were riddled with buckshot and their recovery is not expected. It was Gardner's third escape from prison.

Gardner and his companions made their way into the brush and prison guards express the belief they have reached the mainland with the help of accomplices.

When Gardner escaped, H. H. Botaw, brother-in-law of President Harding, Superintendent of Federal prisons was conferring with the warden in the office of the latter.

Attorney Olson Meets Death in Auto Accident

Car Leaves Straight Road, Goes Over Wall and Is Practically Demolished; Cause as Yet Unexplained.

Clarence Olson, of Robinson, Castle & Olson, Honolulu attorneys, was killed in an automobile accident near Lahaina late yesterday afternoon, the cause of the accident being as yet undetermined. The fatality occurred on the Lahaina-Wailuku road at a point just below where rock is taken from the hills for the Paia cement plant. The car left the straight road, went over a stone wall and turned completely around. Olson was thrown out and was found a considerable distance from the practically demolished machine.

Attorney Olson had come over from Honolulu to attend to a case which was to have been heard before Judge Banks this morning. He was associated with Attorney Enos Vincent, Judge Robinson had had the case in hand, but was unable to come over because of a trip to the coast, and Olson came in his stead. He lunched with Vincent yesterday and told him he thought he would work on the case in the Grand Hotel, where he was stopping. Later he must have decided to go to Lahaina.

Dr. J. H. Raymond and Harvey Raymond came down from Ulupalakua yesterday and Dr. Raymond offered Olson the use of his Cunningham car, not thinking he would go on a long trip. Later Olson was passed going into Lahaina. He spent about half an hour with Dr. Dodge at the Lahaina Hotel, whom he wanted to return with him for the dinner dance that was to have been held at the Grand Hotel last night. The latter at first thought of going, but later declined.

The next known of the affair was the discovery of the wrecked car and Olson unconscious by Louis Disteli, Judge Burr and C. S. Childs, who were returning from Lahaina, whence they had been on a fishing trip. They saw the wrecked car first, its engine still running. Next they found Olson, still living, but unconscious, about 20 feet from the car. He died a few minutes later in Louis Disteli's arms. The body was taken to the hospital, W. H. Field notified, and he in turn notified other Shriners, who made arrangements for the shipping of the body by last night's Mauna Loa. Sheriff Crowell was notified and wirelessly news of the distressing accident to Mr. Olson's firm.

Olson had spoken of going to see Joseph Ambrose in Lahaina, but he did not see him while over there. He made the trip over alone and no one was with him when the car left the road, so it may never be known what occasioned the disaster.
